

GILGIT HILL STATION

Gilgit is a bustling city and the administrative headquarter of Gilgit-Baltistan. It is located in a beautiful broad valley at the confluence of the rivers Indus and Huza. It has an airport that makes it a starting point for many visitors who come by air, who come to explore the sky-high mountains of the Karakoram Highway. Gilgit is an ancient city, located on the legendary Silk Road, and was once a centre of Buddhism. The city has all the facilities a tourist can wish for and its location makes it an ideal place to make it your “base camp” and explore the many wonderful places all around. It has hotels for all budgets and a big bazaar to cater to all your shopping needs.